A Message About COVID-19

While we are operating in uncharted territory, Allied Appliance remains open and we are working normal business hours. We continue to monitor the ongoing COVID-19 situation and will react to federal, state and local guidelines as they are implemented. Many of the manufacturers that we work with have provided updates on their business plans and product supply chain. All of our Sales Representatives are copied on these communications as soon as they are received. If you have any questions regarding product supply or orders currently placed, please reach out to your Representative for additional information. Currently, most manufacturers are not seeing a disruption in supply and those that are view this as a short-term issue. For the protection of our employees and for the protection of your staff, we would request that all meetings be handled either via a phone call or through a web meeting if at all possible. Allied Appliance looks forward to keeping your business operating in as seamless a manner as possible and we look forward to a time when business returns to normal.

Allied Appliance will provide additional information to our customers as required. Stay safe, stay healthy, and we will get through this challenging time.
